

The Graduate Institute for Advanced Studies, SOKENDAI
[Global Environmental Studies Program]
Doctoral Program 2024
Special Admissions for Applicants Residing Abroad
(Privately Financed International Students, Second-Round)

1. General Prospectus

The Graduate University for Advanced Studies, SOKENDAI was founded on October 1, 1988 as one of the national universities of Japan. The basic idea of SOKENDAI is to develop a new system of postgraduate education in Japan. Its key features are as follows;

- 1) SOKENDAI offers both three-year and five-year doctoral programs.
- 2) SOKENDAI consists of 20 programs under one institute operated by 20 Inter-University Research Institutes and Independent Administrative Institutions (“parent institutions”)
- 3) Research and education are carried out in close cooperation with the parent institutions.
- 4) Broad and international visions are fostered by enhanced interchange among various institutions and other universities in Japan and abroad.

The parent institutions provide Japanese and foreign scientists with opportunities to conduct advanced joint research in various branches of science. They are equipped with extensive research facilities and function as centers for advanced studies. At present, they are cooperating in establishing a world-class program of postgraduate education in SOKENDAI.

[Admission Policy]

<What SOKENDAI expects of our grad students>

The Graduate University for Advanced Studies, SOKENDAI, seeks students who have a strong interest in research, who constantly hone their abundant intellect and sensitivity with the aim of conducting research that will open up a new era, while taking a “bird's-eye view” of the entire field of study, and who have the will and enthusiasm to be active on the international stage.

<Basic policy for the selection of our grad students>

In selecting students for admission, SOKENDAI places importance on basic academic ability and logical thinking ability to actively promote research in the cutting-edge 20 research institutes affiliated to SOKENDAI. In order to properly judge such abilities, various selections will be made according to the respective fields of specialization.

2. Global Environmental Studies Program Outline

Global Environmental Studies Program is based on research projects promoted by the Research Institute for Humanity and Nature (RIHN). This interdisciplinary research with elements of transdisciplinarity utilizes a problem-solving approach in collaboration with society. The program is designed for students to gain knowledge and methodologies accumulated by the academic fields that constitute Global Environmental Studies and to become independent researchers who will engage in solving global environmental issues with their expertise. In addition, the program will provide research training that avails the research environment for cutting-edge research and the advantages of small-group education.

RIHN is developing comprehensive research that transcends existing academic fields and disciplines through a “Program-Project system” that unites several research projects under a Program. Programs consist of the Research Programs and the Strategic Program, with several research projects under each Program. The research projects are conducted in accordance with the priority issues set for each Program.

The RIHN Center has been established to support overall research activities at RIHN through providing research infrastructure and to promote collaboration with various stakeholders in society toward the establishment of Global Environmental Studies. In addition, the Strategic Planning and Management Department has been established to promote the continuous utilization of diverse research results from Research Programs and Projects and to promote the management of RIHN. The RIHN Center and the Strategic Planning and Management Department are responsible for a wide variety of tasks in cooperation with Research Programs and Projects while conducting research in Global Environmental Studies.
